Corporate Communications Group: Awardee in Best Workplace in the Americas 2019 Competition

Upper Marlboro MD – [February 22, 2019] – Corporate Communications Group (CCG) of Upper Marlboro, MD has been awarded the Best Workplace in the Americas (BWA) designation to recognize exemplary human resources practices that create an outstanding workplace. For nearly 20 years, Printing Industries of America's BWA program has acted as an acknowledgment of printing industry excellence in human resources practices.

Being designated a Best Workplace company demonstrates the significant commitment that CCG has made to its employees by investing in their work environment, their personal goals and ambitions, and recognizing that an exceptional workplace also serves the needs of the company.

A panel of respected human relations professionals from the print industry judged entrants against benchmarking categories that promote the most sought-after qualities of today's workforce, including: Communication & Culture, Employee Resources & Benefits, and Work Environment & Safety.

"It's an honor to be recognized by the industry as a company that offers a superior workplace. I'm both proud and humbled to have the privilege of leading CCG today and into the future, but the real credit goes to the talented employees of CCG who continue to develop and grow our organization. They believe in each other, and in the mission and vision of CCG." said Michael Marcian, CEO.

Michael Makin, president and CEO of Printing Industries of America, agrees. “Companies recognized in the Best Workplace in the Americas program exhibit the highest commitment to success in many ways, but particularly through their employees. Congratulations to Corporate Communications Group.”
